CHILDREN MURDERED.

A Girl of Six and Her Brother Horribly Butchered.

THE GIRL'S BODY MUTILATED.

An Eighteen-Year-Old Boy, Charged with the Crime, Is Taken Secretly to Another Town to Escape a Mob of Five Hundred Lynchers.

VAN WERT, O., Nov. 6.—Charles Hart, aged 18, has been arrested, charged with the murder of the two children of Farmer Good, near Paulding, O., whose mutilated bodies were found yesterday. The boy's throat was cut from ear to ear, the girl was decapitated and disemboweled, the weapon being an ax An attempt had been made to burn the brush heap, but it was too wet. The theory is that the little girl was outraged and the double murder committed to hide the crime. A lynching is feared

Young Hart says he cannot read or write, does not know his age, and is very nervous. When accused of the crime he denied it in a nervous way. The bodies were found within three rods of young Hart's home, and about half a mile from the home of the children. The little boy's boots were found in the grass a short distance from the bodies. Their little hands were tied together with a piece of tarred rope attached to a billet of wood, resembling a rough hewn pump handle. It is thought this will furnish a definite clew if the boy is guilty. The murdered girl was only 6 years old, and her brother 9.

One of the grounds of suspicion against Hart is that when the bodies were found the boy discharged his gun and ran to his home in an excited manner. He was one of the searching party, and was far in the distance when the children were found.

As soon as Hart was taken to the Paulding jail a mob of 200 to 500 organized to hang the prisoner at once, but were dissuaded on pleas that the chances were largely in favor of the boy's innocence and that the guilty party was still at large. It was evident that this argument would hold the crowd off only till night came on, and the sheriff watched his opportunity to spirit the prisoner away to the jail at this place, a distance of thirty miles. It is currently reported that the mob is coming from Paulding into Van Wert in such force that it cannot be resisted by the authorities here.

Fugitive Murderer Captured.

MEMPHIS, Nov. 6.—Charles Epps, colored, who murdered Policeman R. S. Parkins last Friday, was arrested in the swamps of Arkansas yesterday afternoon and brought to Memphis. Epps had been arrested by Parkinson on a charge of larceny, and while waiting for a patrol wagon to be taken to the station house he drew a revolver, shot the officer and escaped. Open threats of lynching are made, and Sheriff McGarver is guarding the jail with a strong posse. If an attack is made blood will flow.

"Death to Judges and Jurors."

LONDON, Nov. 6.—Speaking of the Tilly street ex-fusion, The Daily News says that a long anarchist manifesto was issued in London a few days ago. It was all printed on colored paper, and was couched in vulgar, but vividly English. It was headed "Death to Judges, Death to Jurors," and said among other things, "Comrades, revenge is a duty. You shall see us at work Death to judges jurors policemen in uniform and amateur policemen."

McKane Has Not Been Pardoned.

ALBANY, Nov. 6.—Governor Flower said yesterday that a report in circulation to the effect that he had pardoned John Y. McKane, but that McKane was not to be released from prison until after election, was absolutely false. An informal application for McKane's pardon, he said, had been on file in the executive chamber for some time, but had not yet received even his consideration.

The Czarina Broken Down.

YALTA, Nov. 6.—The embalming of Czar Alexander's body has been delayed, and the remains cannot be taken away before tomorrow. The face of the dead emperor remains unchanged. It bears an expression of resigned pain. The czarina is broken down, but is not under medical treatment.

Justice White Married.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Mr. Justice White, of the United States supreme court, and Mrs. Linden Kent, the widow of a prominent Washington lawyer, were married yesterday at the Church of St. Francis Xavier.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was taken down with pneumonia, succeeding la grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption, and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at McMonagle and Rogers' Drug Store. Regular size 50c, and $1.00.

PULLMAN'S KANSAS RIVAL.

His Late Employes Will Start Their Factory at Hiawatha.

HIAWATHA, Kan., Nov. 6.—The first instalment of workingmen of the Pullman Co-operative club reached here from Chicago yesterday. Thirty-five families and 115 people were in the party. Fifty thousand dollars has been subscribed by citizens of Hiawatha to start the enterprise, and ground for shops will be broken at once. The club is accompanied by Mr. Van Asache, a retired manufacturer of Chicago and a man of large fortune, who will take charge of the works. He is not a member of the club, but believes that the co-operative plan is feasible, and will work free of charge until the works are on a paying basis.

Held a Town at Bay.

PHILLIPSBURG, N. J., Nov. 6.—Michael Boyle, a demented individual, created a sensation in Springtown, N. J., by threatening to kill Station Agent Swackhammer and his family for some alleged grievance. Swackhammer drove the fellow away, and he took refuge in a box car on the Jersey Central road, locking himself inside. He armed himself with coupling links, and defied the village constable and others to arrest him. An engine was sent down and the car containing Boyle was brought to Phillipsburg. He was given a hearing and committed to Belvidere jail.

Four Cotton Steamers Ablaze.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 6.—Last night fire broke out in the hold of the cotton steamer Skidby, and was not suppressed until this morning. The loss in cotton is considerable, and the vessel was badly damaged. Half an hour later the cotton in the hold of the Baltimore City, half a mile distant, was discovered to be on fire. This spread to the cotton on the Castle Garth. Still later fire was discovered on the steamer Stag, also laden with cotton, and this was not suppressed until this morning. The total loss is estimated at $50,000. The fires were probably incendiary.

Alleged Postoffice Thief Arrested.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Samuel Wells, alias Marsh Market, alias Jones, was arrested in the Tombs court yesterday, after he had been discharged by the police justice. The postoffice detectives made the arrest. Wells is charged with having stolen $4,850.59 of stamps and $518.61 in cash from the postoffice at New Albany, Ind. Patrick Meade, a broker of 67 William street, was also arrested, charged with the receipt of the stolen stamps. Each prisoner was held by the federal authorities in $5,000 bail.

Made the Good Indian Treat.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Nov. 6.—Mitchell Patterson, a very bad Indian, of Tuscorara reservation, went to the house of his neighbor, Isaac Clause, a good Indian, and called him out. As soon as Clause appeared Patterson knocked him down and kicked him in the head. He then marched him to the store and made him treat to tobacco, afterwards robbing him of all his money. Patterson then disappeared. Clause is so badly injured he may die.

Arm Dislocated in a Prize Fight.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Nov. 6.—Johnny Glynn, the Dixie bantamweight champion, and Johnny Boyle, champion at that weight from New York, sparred at Henry's theater here last night. The honors were about evenly divided up to the sixth round, when Boyle dislocated his left arm while landing a swinging blow, and the latter's seconds threw up the sponge. Boyle had the credit of drawing first blood.

Charged with Conspiring to Defraud.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 6.—The Traders' Syndicate of Chicago was closed yesterday, and the manager, J. G. Dudgeon, arrested for conspiracy to defraud. The prosecutor, J. M. Stodker, charged that the firm had given him a dividend check, but refused to pay the money until five days had elapsed. It is said that more than a hundred people had received similar checks, dated Chicago, none of which were honored.

His Haste Caused His Death.

RUTHERFORD, N. J., Nov. 6.—Francis J. Callonen, a prominent citizen of this place, was instantly killed by the express train at the depot here. Mr. Callonen attempted to board the train before it stopped at the station in order to secure a seat. Instead of jumping on the steps of the car he slipped and fell between two of the cars. His head was crushed and his body mutilated.

Looks Like a Murder.

EASTON, Pa., Nov. 6.—The body of an unknown man was found on the Lehigh and Lackawanna railroad tracks, near Santee's Mills. There were two deep gashes in the head, and the left hand was cut off. It is believed that the man was murdered and the body placed on the track to avoid suspicion. The motive for the murder is supposed to have been robbery.

Irwin Will be Arrested.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 6.—An information on the charge of conspiracy to defraud was made against George M. Irwin, the discretionary pool operator, by Mrs. Mary Schott, of this city. She invested $50 in Irwin's pool. Irwin has left the city and closed his office temporarily. It was ascertained that he is in New York. He will be arrested on his return to this city.

LEFT ALONE WITH HIS DEAD.

While Nursing His Smallpox Patients He Has No Time for Funerals.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 6.—Frederick Kusch lives near Muskego lake, nineteen miles southwest of this city. Two of his children died last Thursday of smallpox and one on Saturday. Several of the others and the mother are now sick. Kusch has been fighting the disease single handed from the start. His nearest neighbor, William Bishop, lives half a mile away. He alone has tried to help the afflicted family. He went to Hale's Corners for a doctor. The latter came on Friday, but did not enter the house. He left medicines for the sick and took an order for two small coffins. Then he went away, and has not been seen since. Meantime the father kept up day and night nursing his sick wife and children who yet live, and has not had time to bury his dead babies. His neighbors have been afraid to go near his place. Kusch is caring as best he can for his wife's mother, an aged invalid who has lived with them for years.

New Jersey's Railroad Tax.

TRENTON, Nov. 6.—The assessment of railroad property in New Jersey for the purpose of taxation this year has been completed by the state board of assessors. The total valuation is $222,059,373, and the total amount of the tax $1,518,631.25. Of this amount the state's share is $1,110,296.86, and the share of the cities and towns is $408,334.39, the total increase over last year's valuation being $3,635,308. The Pennsylvania Railroad company's tax bill foots up to the enormous amount of $427,655.61. The bill of the Central Railroad company is $313,064.92. The other roads will pay as follows: Lehigh Valley, $134,481.20; New York, Susquehanna and Western, $41,403.11; Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, $273,280.45; New York, Lake Erie and Western, $146,910.67; Reading, $50,517.77. The unclassified companies have bills against them aggregating $131,317.52.

General Booth in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—There was an outpouring of Salvation Army soldiers at the Pennsylvania depot yesterday to greet General Booth, the commander-in-chief of the army. General Booth was accompanied by his son, Ballington Booth, and several other officers of the army. There was an army parade on Pennsylvania avenue to the local barracks, and General Booth was escorted to the residence of M. R. Woodward, a prominent merchant, where he is being entertained. In the afternoon General Booth met the clergymen of the city at the Congregational church, and last night he addressed an immense audience in Convention hall, the largest assembly place in the city.

Frick's Workmen Again Dissatisfied.

BRADDOCK, Pa., Nov. 6.—The finishing department of the Edgar Thomson Steel works is idle, and a complete suspension may follow. The rail straighteners were told yesterday that they would be required to do the extra work without additional compensation. The straighteners thereupon quit work and appointed a committee to carry their grievance to Chairman Frick. About 150 men are now affected, and should a compromise not be effected the entire plant will have to close down.

Four Women Injured in a Runaway.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 6.—Five young women were driving in a carriage when the team got frightened and, running away, came into collision with another buggy. Miss Barron, daughter of the secretary of state; Lena Moore, Sarah Townsend and Elizabeth Spalding were injured, the last fatally. Both vehicles were demolished, and two horses killed. Miss Elmore was driving when the accident occurred. All excepting Miss Spalding are regarded as likely to recover.

Spain's Reorganized Ministry.

MADRID, Nov. 6.—The new ministry formed by Senor Sagasta is as follows: Premier, Senor Sagasta; minister of foreign affairs, Senor Groizard; finance, Senor Salvador; interior, Senor Capdepon; justice, Senor Maura; war, General Lopez Dominguez; marine, Admiral Pasquin; colonies, Senor Abarzuza; public works, Senor Puigcerver. Senors Groizard, Salvador and Capdepon, General Lopez Dominguez and Admiral Pasquin were members of the old cabinet.

Another Smallpox Scare at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—There was another smallpox scare at the interior department yesterday, when it was announced that Ballard Morris, principal examiner in the patent office, had the disease. Morris was on duty Friday. He had been vaccinated, and the virus had taken effect. Yet the man is quite sick. Commissioner Seymour ordered the division in which Morris worked closed and sent the employes home.

Relief in Six Hours.

ELECTION PREDICTIONS.

How Political Managers Evolve Satisfactory Figures.

BOTH CLAIM NEW YORK, OF COURSE

Chairman Hackett Satisfied That the Count of Ballots Will Show a Majority for Morton, Which Is Contradicted by Chairman Thacher's Figures—California Women Play Election.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—"On the eve of battle; resting under arms," and similar phrases were current at the various political headquarters last night in the place of news. Most of these places were nearly deserted, as many of the managers had left them for their home districts, where they are working and voting today. An exception to the rule was the case of Chairman Hackett, at the Republican state headquarters in the Fifth Avenue hotel, who having paired votes with a friend in Utica, will remain here until after the election. He said today that nothing had occurred to change the estimates of Republican success already made public.

On the other hand, Chairman Thacher, at Democratic state headquarters, before leaving for Albany, gave out an estimate that Morton would not have more than 40,000 plurality above Harlem river, and that to overcome this Hill would have pluralities of over 60,000 in this city, at least 10,000 in Kings county, and from 1,000 to 1,200 in Richmond county. Mr. Thacher admitted, however, that Erie county, which the Hill men have been claiming by some 7,000 votes, was at best doubtful.

Confident claims are made by both sides on the local issue. The supporters of the Committee of Seventy ticket predict that Tammany will be drowned by a tidal wave, and say that for this reason all estimates of figures on the local result are worthless. At the headquarters of Hugh J. Grant the Tammany candidate for mayor issues a statement in which he asserts that "the Democrats of the city of New York will give an overwhelming plurality for the state ticket headed by David B. Hill and the county ticket headed by myself." He continues:

"I shall assume the mayoralty on Jan. 1, pledged only to give offices to men who can and will administer them for the public good;" and adds, "being a Democrat, I shall use Democratic means to do whatever the public needs to be done." Mr. Grant declares that the Lexow committee has finally thrown aside the cloak of anxiety for the public good, and has appeared, just as the Fassett committee appeared in the week before election day in 1890, as an utterly partisan Republican body."

In predicting the success of the anti-Tammany ticket Campaign Manager Jerome, of the Committee of Seventy, said he was confident that the Seventy's candidates would win by overwhelming majorities.

An important step which will tend materially to an honest election was taken yesterday by Superintendent Byrnes, who ordered that all the policemen on duty at the polls be detailed to precincts where they do not regularly belong. This is to prevent improper acts by the police under the influence of election officers and others with whom they are personally familiar and friendly

There was a good deal of heavy betting at the St. James' and other hotels yesterday, and also in Stock Exchange circles. The general odds were 5 to 3 on Morton as against Hill, and about 5 to 4 in favor of Strong against Grant Of course there was considerable variation in the terms of the various wagers, but the odds noted were about the average. There was little betting on pluralities

CHAIRMAN BABCOCK'S ESTIMATE.

How He Counts a Republican Majority in the Next Congress.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Chairman Babcock, of the Republican congressional committee, addressed a dispatch to Vice Chairman T. D. Apsley, of Hudson, Mass., claiming for the Republicans the certain election of 183 members of congress, four more than a majority of the house, and the probable election of 218 Republicans. Senator Faulkner, chairman of the Democratic committee, says that the committee feels confident from its advices that the Democrats will elect a majority of members, and does not see how the complexion of the house can be changed from Democratic to Republican. He cannot understand, he says, on what the Republicans base their assertions of control.

Chairman Babcock's estimate of the number of Republican congressmen that will be elected today, by states, is as follows:

	Sure.	Probable.
Alabama	0	1
California	5	6
Colorado	1	2
Connecticut	2	3

WOMEN PLAY ELECTION.

If Their Votes Counted the Prohibition Candidates Would be Elected.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Nov. 6.—The first election ever held in this country at which women only cast a ballot for candidates for county and state officers has been held in southern California, and French, the Prohibition candidate for governor, is probably elected. The movement which originated in San Bernardino two months ago soon spread, not only all over this county, but women in adjoining counties caught the idea, and in Riverside, in Los Angeles, and in San Diego counties have been marching up to, or rather at, the polls and putting in a ballot which might indicate their rights as citizens. "For God and home and native land" was the motto everywhere in sight about the polling booths.

About 20,000 votes were polled, almost all the ballots being scratched, although the Prohibitionists and Populists received many more votes than the old line parties. To prepare their ballots in two cases required forty minutes. The best time made by any female voter was twelve and a half minutes. Several disturbances occurred at the polls because some ladies demanded the right to delve in the ballot boxes and fish out a ticket which had been voted to make desired corrections. When the judges demurred there were some exciting scenes and an interchange of harsh words. The women are working today for the tickets successful in their own election.

The Election in Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 6.—The campaign has been one of excitement from the beginning, the Republicans being more aggressive than ever known in this state. They have nominees for all the offices to be filled. The Democrats will elect their congressional candidates in the First, Second, Fourth, Sixth and Eighth and probably in the Seventh. The latter is Breckinridge's district, in which Owens is the Democratic nominee, and Judge Denny the Republican. Owens is doubtful, because the friends of Breckinridge have refused to support him. The feeling between these factions is intense and bitter. The really doubtful districts are the Third, Fifth, Ninth, Tenth and Eleventh, the chances being about evenly divided.

Minnesota Claimed by Three Parties.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 6.—Minnesota will today elect a full state, congressional and legislative ticket, and all three leading parties make great claims. The Republican committee claims that Governor Nelson will be re-elected, and predict a solid congressional delegation and a majority of the legislature The Democrats claim that Becker will be elected by 5,000 or more, that part of the state ticket will follow him, and that at least two congressmen will be Democrats. The Populists claim the election of Sydney M. Owen for governor, express confidence in the re election of Congressman Boen, and assert that they will hold the balance of power in the legislature.

Both Sides Confident in Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 6.—Both sides are confident of carrying Indiana. Chairman Taggart, of the Democratic state committee, said: "There is not the least doubt in my mind that the Democrats will carry the state, the county, the townships, and if there was a city election now there would not be a Republican left in the city government." He claims a majority of twenty-one congressmen. Chairman Gowdry, of the Republican committee, would give no figures, but said that the state would go overwhelmingly Republican and that more than a majority of the congressmen would be Republicans.

In W. L. Wilson's District.

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 6.—Election day finds the Republicans in a more confident humor than they have ever been on a similar occasion. In the First district they claim Dovener's election to congress. Democrats do not concede the defeat of Howard, however. In Wilson's district both sides are confident, and matters are in great doubt. In the Third there is a hard fight, with chances about even. The chances for Harvey (Dem.) in the Fourth are considered good.

Four Tickets in California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—California elects this year a complete state ticket, several congressmen and a legislature. There are four tickets in the field—Democratic, Republican, Populist and Prohibition. Both the Democrats and Republicans claim a victory, and are confident of their success. The next legislature will elect a United States senator to succeed Senator Perkins, who was appointed by the governor to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Stanford.

Republican Claims in Washington State.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 6.—Washington elects two congressmen-at-large and two justices of the supreme court, and votes on an important constitutional amendment in regard to the investment of state funds. Half the state senators—seventeen and all the members of the house—twenty-two—are to be elected. The Republicans claim they will win by at least 5,000. In every Republican county there is fusion between Democrats and Populists.

Bitter Fight in Nebraska.

OMAHA, Nov. 6.—The campaign which closed last night is admitted to be the bitterest affair of the kind in Nebraska history. In all parts of the state it wound up with enthusiastic rallies. The elements of uncertainty are more numerous in today's contest than Nebraska has ever known. The Fusion-Democrat-Populists claim the election of their state ticket by 15,000, and the Republicans claim success for their state ticket by 10,000.

No Betting in Massachusetts.

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—There is no betting on the result of the election in this state, and the Democrats concede the election of the entire Republican state ticket and eleven congressmen out of thirteen, although they make no figures regarding the plurality of Governor Greenhalge. Senator Lodge looks for a Republican plurality of 50,000

AGAIN SUING FOR PEACE.

China Asks the Powers to End the Eastern War.

WILLING TO PAY AN INDEMNITY.

Great Britain Will Ask France to Co-operate with Her to That End—Japs Still Marching Triumphantly Forward—Destruction of Fung-Wang-Ching Confirmed.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—The Daily News says that the Chinese minister has imparted to the foreign office China's desire that the powers mediate with Japan for peace. The minister has gone to Paris to make a similar request of France In a leader commenting on the foregoing The Daily News says that China has approached the powers with the terms of peace she will offer Japan This is a formal renewal on a larges scale of the overtures made to the queen's ministers a month ago. Lord Rosebery's course could not have been more completely and conclusively vindicated. No European power can well desire to prolong this disastrous conflict. Even the United States, despite the Monroe doctrine, must be concerned for the regularity and security of their great trade with Japan. It will be difficult to contend that interference is premature now.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 6.—It is stated that Viceroy Li Hung Chang, instead of taking command of the First Chinese army, as it was said he had been ordered to do, has been transferred from Tientsin to Pekin.

Orders have been issued rescinding the projected dispatch of large supplies of rice for the army at New Chwang. This is due to the fact that the board of war has abandoned all hope of staying the progress of the Japanese army in Manchuria. Many Chinese merchant vessels have recently been placed under the German flag.

YOKOHAMA, Nov. 6.—The report cabled to the Associated Press that Fung-Wang-Ching was set on fire before its evacuation by the Chinese has been confirmed by advices from the front. The Chinese, having evidently abandoned hope of making a successful defense against the advancing Japanese army, set fire to the castle and then fled without waiting to be attacked.

PEKIN, Nov. 6.—China is disposed to conclude a peace with Japan on the basis of a guarantee of the independence of Corea and the payment of an indemnity, the amount to be fixed by the powers. It is reported that China has invited the representatives of the powers to intervene to secure peace.

TIENTSIN, Nov. 6.—The telegraph line to Port Arthur has been cut, probably at the narrow isthmus between Port Adams and Talien-Wan, indicating that the Japanese are within a day's march of the Talien-Wan forts.

Attempt to Wreck a Train.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 6.—An attempt was made during the night to wreck a Pittsburg, Virginia and Charleston train near Monongahela City. A large pile of ties and rocks had been placed on the track, which the track walker had discovered in time to flag the train Near the obstruction was found a man lying close to the rails wounded in the head. He told the trainmen that he had come upon the train wreckers unawares, and that they had beaten him into insensibility. He is Charles Coates, formerly a telegrapher on the Lake Erie road, and it is believed he placed the obstruction on the track and injured himself to excite sympathy. He is under arrest.

Lashed Her Rival with a Rawhide.

DAYTON, O., Nov. 6.—Mrs. Harvey S. Campbell, wife of a prominent merchant of West Alexandria, Preble county, lashed the wife of Dr. Gregg with a rawhide, while her three sons beat their father into insensibility and held off any resistance with revolvers. Mrs. Gregg is a party to a divorce suit brought by Mrs. Campbell against her husband. Dr. Gregg has also brought suit against Campbell, asking for $10,000 damages for the alienation of his wife's affection.

Insulting the Dead Czar.

VIENNA, Nov. 6.—There was a noisy scene in the reichsrath yesterday. The president of the house delivered an eulogy on the late czar and during his address the Polish members hotly protested against his praise of the dead emperor Finally the greater number of the Polish members withdrew from the chamber. The incident was an unpleasant one for the government, and Emperor Franz Joseph is likely to take it as a personal offense.

The Hovas Will Fight France.

PARIS, Nov. 6.—The Temps publishes a dispatch from Zanzibar saying the Hova prime minister has replied to the ultimatum of France, forwarded to the government of Madagascar by M. Le Myer de Vilers, that the Hova's would only yield to force. The Temps' dispatch adds that the French are evacuating Antananarivo, the capital of Madagascar.

STOOD BACK TO BACK.

HOW EARLY TENNESSEEANS ALWAYS FACED THE FOE.

Interesting Reminiscences Recalled by the Approaching Centennial of Tennessee's Admission to the Union—The Home of Presidents Jackson, Polk and Johnson.

June 1, 1796, Tennessee was formally declared a state, and already preparations are in rapid progress for a vast centennial display and exposition at Nashville, to last from Sept. 1 to Nov. 15, 1896. She was the third state admitted after the federal constitution was adopted, and familiar as we are with the details of rapid growths in the new world it is hard to realize that there is a commonwealth of some 1,900,000 people in an area dominated by the fiercest Indians 120 years ago and a magnificent city of 100,000 people on the spot, where, according to Felix Grundy, the pioneers did not stand face to face when they met, but back to back, in never ceasing vigilance against the lurking foe.

"If I am asked," said Grundy in a speech in the United States senate, "to name my first indelible impression, it would be the sight of my oldest brother bleeding and dying under the tomahawk and scalping knife. Another and still another brother went in the same way. A widowed mother, robbed of her all in a night, reduced from affluence to poverty in a moment, toiled to rear and educate her last son—him who now addresses you." Between 1780 and 1794 the Indians killed in the area now included in Nashville and its suburbs one person every ten days on an average. In 1787 33 were killed. The next year Andrew Jackson and party arrived. He was soon a leader in Indian warfare, then a leading lawyer and judge. In January, 1796, he represented his precinct in the state constitutional convention at Knoxville, and in the following December he entered congress as the first representative from Tennessee.

THE HERMITAGE, NEAR NASHVILLE.

The state has given three presidents to the nation—all natives of North Carolina, however, though Jackson always thought he was a native of South Carolina. Other heroes of whom the state is proud were David Crockett, hero of the Alamo; Thomas H. Benton, Sam Houston, Bell, Coffee and many more, not to mention those of our own time. Now the state purposes to celebrate all these as well as her wonderful achievement in material things. An organization has been completed similar to that for the Chicago World's fair, and the capital of $750,000 already secured will be devoted to the erection of buildings and preparation of the grounds, but this is only a small part of what will be expended.

The president of the commission is Nathaniel Baxter, Jr., a native of the state and noted as president of the Tennessee Coal, Railroad and Iron company. The first vice president is General W. H. Jackson, known to the country as owner of the famous Belle Meade stock farm. The director general is Major A. W. Willis, a native of Pennsylvania who came to Nashville as a Federal officer during the war, married a Nashville lady, was postmaster of the city during the Harrison administration and made a record in the office of which all Nashville is proud. Ex-Congressman H. Clay Evans of Chattanooga, also a Pennsylvanian by birth, and all the other officials are men of like standing, experience and energy. The women also have an organization, and the ladies who have The Hermitage in charge expect to take an important part.

The Hermitage, known to all Americans as the home of Andrew Jackson, is 12 miles east of Nashville and is preserved as he left it, save that it is well filled with mementos of the old hero and other historic relics. The house is a square red brick standing some distance from the road and reached by a broad avenue so densely shaded by heavy cedars and other trees that it seems dark even at midday. This leads to a broad and beautiful lawn in front of the house. Within plain sight and not far away is the tomb holding the mortal remains of Jackson and his Rachel, above whose grave is a slab, bearing the affecting tribute written by her husband and containing this reference to attacks made on her in partisan campaigns:

"A being so gentle and so virtuous slander might wound, but could not dishonor."

Belle Meade, the most noted stock farm in America, if not in the world, is a few miles northwest of Nashville. It consists of 5,200 acres of splendid land and is the property of General W. H. Jackson and his brother, the ex-senator and present United States circuit judge. There is Iroquois, who won the Epsom Derby, Prince of Wales' stakes and Doncaster over everything in England. Also Luke Blackburn, who as a 3-year-old won 22 out of 24 races.

The first permanent settlement was made at Nashville in the winter of 1779-80, and it received a city charter in 1806, but had no more than 20,000 inhabitants at the beginning of the war. Even in 1870 the federal census credited it with but 25,859. Soon after the great development began, and now its 100,000 people can compare with any equal number in the world as to extent and variety of manufactures, active capital, and especially in splendid buildings and great institutions of learning.

COTTOLENE.

Lardepsia

would be a more appropriate name for that common cause of suffering—dyspepsia—because most cases of dyspepsia can be traced to food cooked with lard. Let COTTOLENE take the place of lard in your kitchen and good health will take the place of Dyspepsia.

Try it. Every pail of the genuine COTTOLENE bears this trade mark—steer's head in cotton-plant wreath.

A WOMAN'S WAY.

Sometimes she comes right out and says
She does not love me—flat.
I smile and think it wouldn't do
For me to tell her that.

And sometimes when I tie her shoes
She calls me stupid. Why,
Just think! Suppose I'd call her that!
Phew! How 'twould make her cry!

And sometimes when I claim a kiss
She turns me off, "Nay, nay!"
But, oh, what trouble it would make
If I should act that way!

If she would only let me feel
That I had won her, then
I'd be more settled than I am.
I'd act like other men.

And yet I hate to own it up—
I'm but a man, you know—
Because my pearl treats me this way
Is why I love her so.

—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

THEIR WHIST PRINCIPLES.

Old Sarah Battle Was the Inspiration For This Indiana Club.

An Indiana town—New Albany—has a woman's whist club which is probably unique in respect to title and code of rules and regulations. It was organized in 1892 and christened "The Sarah Battle Whist Club," in honor and admiration of genial and gentle Charles Lamb's illustrious gamester — "Old Sarah Battle (now with God), who, next to her devotions, loved a good game of whist."

That dear, serious old lady, with "a fine, last century countenance"—you remember—"a gentlewoman born"—held very positive and uncompromising opinions concerning games. She hated piquet, cribbage, backgammon, chess—all these she styled contemptuously "games of chance." She doted on "the pure aristocracy of whist," and (neat little feminine foible) "hearts was her favorite suit."

The motto of the Indiana club is the celebrated wish of good Mrs. Battle, "A clear fire, a clean hearth and the rigor of the game." The following "Card of Principles" is taken from the essay which embodies her spirited opinions:

Next to our devotions, to love a good game of whist.

To love a thorough paced partner and a determined enemy.

To fight a good fight, cut and thrust.

To hate favors—to take and give no concessions.

Not to take out snuffboxes, snuff candles or ring for a servant in the middle of a game.

Not to introduce or connive at miscellaneous conversation during the progress of a game.

Not to consider "the noble occupation" in the light of a recreation.

To unbend the mind afterward over a book.—New York World.

Beans and Dollars.

Several customers were chatting in a Lafayette avenue grocery store one evening recently when the grocer pointed to a half barrel of small beans and asked how many of them it would require to make a bushel.

Various estimates were offered. One man recklessly put the number down at 50,000, which occasioned a laugh from all the others who had guessed a much lesser quantity, ranging all the way from 5,000 to 20,000.

"Well, gentlemen," remarked the grocer, "you are all wrong. There are approximately 119,000 beans in a bushel."

No one was inclined to believe him until he showed them that it took 60 beans, selected at random, to weigh half an ounce. The rest of the calculation was simple.

"Now, then," said one of the party, "since we are engaged in guessing contests, how many dollar bills would it take to weigh as much as a silver dollar?"

One said 100, another said 75, while the grocer, who knew all about beans, put the figures at 300.

"All wrong," remarked the man. "It takes just 22." This was proved to be the case by experiment.—New York Herald.

The Mind Reading Boy.

The policeman had been standing on the corner for about ten minutes, and a foxy looking boy sitting on a nearby doorstep was watching him. The boy's curiosity overcame him at last, and he sidled along up to the officer.

"I say, Mr. Copper," he said at a safe distance, "what are you standin on this corner for?"

"That's my business," he replied curtly.

"Well, you seem to be 'tendin to it," ventured the boy.

"That's what I'm paid for."

"Allo samee," chirruped the lad, "I know what you're standin there for."

"I'll give you a nickel if you'll tell me," bantered the officer as he held out a coin to the kid.

"Throw it to me," said the boy, keeping his distance warily.

"Not much. You tell me what I'm standing here for, and I'll give it to you."

The boy came up close enough to reach the coin. "You're standin here fer ten minutes," he said, with a grab at the money, and the officer chased him in vain.—Detroit Free Press.

Recording the Losses.

In primitive times, when men went into the fight, it is hardly supposable that anything like a roster was kept, no army bulletin printed, "Dead, Missing, Wounded." According to tradition, the method employed to record the losses in battle was simple. Before going into the fight every man took a stone and deposited it in a heap. After the battle the survivors took away each one a stone. Nothing was easier than to count those stones which were uncalled for. The remainder showed the loss of life. —New York Times.

That men are appreciating the value of the rest cure is shown in an assertion recently made by J. M. Barrie, the novelist, that a day in bed refreshed him as much as a few days spent at the seaside.

COUGHED DAY AND NIGHT.

MRS. L. F. COATES.

Three years ago, I was so sick I could not eat, sleep or walk, for I coughed all day and night, my weight was reduced from 150 to 127 pounds. The first night that I slept four hours at one time, was after I had taken three doses of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The offensive matter expectorated grew less every day and when I had taken the whole of one bottle I could sleep all night without coughing, and have been well ever since and weigh 148 pounds.

AN OLD CAMPAIGNER.

Major Dye, Now In Korea, Has a Brilliant Military Record.

Caucasians of many nations are taking part in the far eastern unpleasantness, and among those recently made prominent is Major William McE. Dye, who went to Korea on the recommendation of General Phil Sheridan to train the native army in western tactics and is now commander of the Korean army. This army is a contingent of the Japanese army of invasion and is paid by the mikado of Japan and tolerably well supplied with arms of the latest American pattern.

MAJOR DYE.

Major Dye was born in Ohio in 1838 and graduated from West Point in the class with Sheridan, Schofield and Hood and was given a second lieutenantcy in the Fourth infantry, where he served with Grant. When the civil war broke out, he was stationed in Texas as a second lieutenant in the Eighth infantry at San Antonio, and to avoid being included in the Twiggs surrender he went into Mexico. While on his way to the capital the coach was attacked by brigands, and he and another American passenger beat off the robbers with revolvers, killing several of them. In company with Tom Corwin, American minister, he sailed from Vera Cruz to Havana, and there was brought near death by the yellow fever, but recovered sufficiently to take command of the Twentieth Iowa infantry in 1862.

He served through the remainder of the war, commanded a brigade in the west and was brevetted a brigadier. In the peace establishment he was made major of the Fourth infantry, but soon resigned and went to Egypt to assist General Stone in organizing the khedive's troops. Egypt still owes him several thousand dollars in unpaid salary. Early in 1883 he was made superintendent of the police force of the District of Columbia and greatly increased its efficiency. His fight with the Louisiana Lottery company made a noted episode in District affairs, as he not only raided the company's office, but broke open its iron safe and seized all its assets. The company brought suit against the District, but was beaten. In 1886 the home rule principle was put in force, and Major Dye gave place to Samuel H. Walker as superintendent. He then went to Korea.

THEY ADVOCATE GOOD ROADS.

The American Carriage Builders Are Progressive and Enterprising.

One of the stoutest champions of road improvement in the United States is the Carriage Builders' National association, which recently held its twenty-second annual session in Philadelphia and elected Channing M. Britton of New York president for the ensuing year. The convention decided to send to the officials of the different states a pamphlet outlining the best road laws, the cost of good roads and approved methods of construction. The association also recommended the use of wide tires for heavy traffic and vehicles of varying tracks that would be "roadmakers instead of road destroyers."

CHANNING M. BRITTON.

The association, which was formed in New York in 1872, now has a total membership, active, honorary and associate, of nearly 700. One of the most interesting subjects discussed at the recent convention was the application of ball bearings and pneumatic tires to carriages and trucks. The universal use of the ball bearings and the pneumatic tire in the construction of bicycles has led horsemen to demand the same appliances on their carriages and other vehicles. The use of the balls gives a rolling instead of a sliding friction, and the result is a great saving of power and a consequent increase in speed and drawing capacity.

The first elastic pneumatic tire, it is said, was made over 40 years ago for carriages in England. The tire attracted little attention until recently, when it added so much speed and comfort to the riders of the bicycle. On roads that are at all rough the pneumatic tire runs with much more ease than a steel tire for the reason that the air expanded tire flattens over small obstructions, while the steel tire must be lifted over them. At the convention one of the speakers predicted that teamsters would soon generally adopt the pneumatic tire because they would learn that their horses could draw heavier loads. The same speaker told a humorous story illustrating the ignorance of some horsemen regarding the new tire. The horseman had bought a pneumatic sulky, and a week later he entered the shop and threw down the tire in disgust "I paid my good stuff for this," he said, "and I want to know what you take me for. Why, the blamed thing is holler!"

The Agrarian League's Demands.

BERLIN, Nov. 6,—The Agrarian league has presented a memorial to Chancellor Von Hohenlohe requesting him to exclude all American cattle shipped to Germany on Oct. 28. The memorial demands that the cattle be returned to the United States, and that after unloading the ships that brought them to Germany the ships be quarantined.

Uxoricide and Suicide.

CLEVELAND Nov. 6.—Humphrey Johnson, a well-to-do farmer in Collinwood, a suburb of Cleveland, shot and killed his wife, thirty years his junior, and then committed suicide by the same means. He was somewhat penurious and she liberal in spending his money. Their quarrels were frequent, and ended in the tragedy.

A Human Sacrifice to Idols.

ST. PETERSBURG. Nov. 6.—The trial is impending of a number of peasants of the Kazan district for killing a peasant as a sacrifice to the idols of the Votiaks, a Finnish race living in a more or less uncivilized condition along the River Volga, between the Viatka and Kama rivers.

A Pauper's Suicide.

PEMBERTON, N. J., Nov. 6.—Abraham Scattergood, aged 50 years, an inmate of the Burlington county almshouse, committed suicide by hanging himself. He tied one end of a sheet around his neck, tied the other end to the bed post and then laid down on the floor.

An Error Corrected.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 6.—The dispatch from Washington stating it was believed that James Wasson, who killed his wife and himself near Jalapa, Mexico, was the ex-army officer who married a daughter of United States Minister Bingham, has no foundation in fact. The Wasson described in the Washington dispatch is a resident of Sedalia, Mo., and has been since his return from Japan.

Protection in Peru.

LIMA, Nov. 6.—The Caceres government has imposed duties on all articles that have hitherto been admitted to Peru free of duty. On iron, coal and machinery a duty is imposed of 8 per cent. ad valorem, plus eighty cents silver per ton of 1,000 kilos. General Pierola, the ex-president, has landed at Pisco, 100 miles south of Callao.

C. MACARDELL, PUBLISHER.

GEORGE H THOMPSON, C. MACARDELL, } EDITORS
J. P. ROBINSON, CITY EDITOR
A. E. NICHOLSON, BUSINESS MANAGER

TUESDAY NOVEMBER 6 1894.

The agitation in New York city for cheaper bread has resulted in a number of the leading bakers of the city agreeing to a reduction of a cent a loaf.

The managers of the Democratic campaign said, yesterday, that their figures showed that Hill will have 21,000 plurality. The Republicans said their figures showed 35 000 plurality for Morton. The estimates are only 76 00 votes apart, and for once a campaign has had the effect of bringing the parties together, for a month ago it will be remembered that the Republican estimate was not less than 150,000 plurality for Morton.

"Brick" Pomeroy, who, during the war, was a rabid southern sympathizer and who in the columns of his paper, Pomeroy's Democrat, lauded Jeff Davis, abused Lincoln and berated his country until decent Democrats blushed for the indecencies of which he was guilty in the name of Democracy supported the Republican candidates this fall. And it is a curious fact that Democratic canvassers in this county and elsewhere in the State report that most of the lukewarm Democrats they found this fall were men, who like Pomeroy, were "copperheads" during the war. By some strange mental process these men who were so anxious for the disruption of their country thirty years ago, are now so anxious for its safety that they have been wrestling with their consciences, half afraid to vote for Hill lest because of his election some harm might befall the commonwealth.

Whatever the result of the election, David B. Hill has lost nothing and gained much by accepting the Democratic nomination. The magnificent canvass that he made and the ability and versatility that he displayed in his speeches have strengthened his hold on the Democrats of the State and nation, and he is a hundred times more popular than on the day the Saratoga Convention forced him into the canvass. Besides, Mr. Hill has got a great deal out of the campaign. He would not be human if he was not pleased and flattered at the hearty welcomes and splendid ovations he has received whenever and wherever he has spoken. He has met a great many pleasant people. Campaigning as he has campaigned it has been hard work, but Mr. Hill doesn't mind that. It's a safe bet that he has had a great deal more fun during the past month than Mr. Morton, who has done nothing but sit in his palatial home at Rhinebeck, and watch the dollars flow from the open spigot of his "barl."

THE NEW YORK ELECTION.

A Big Vote Being Cast in All Parts of the state—News from Near By Localities—Many Ballots Cause Delays in New York City—All the City's Vote May Not Be Polled.

BY UNITED PRESS.

ALBANY, Nov. 6—Dispatches from Lockport, Hudson, Rome, Norwich, Troy, Nyack, Buffalo, Elmira, Utica, Watertown, Lyons, Syracuse, Schenectady, Oswego and Rochester are of the same tenor, that a heavy vote is being polled, despite the raw cold weather.

In Albany the vote is heavy but is being polled slowly on account of the multiplicity of ballots.

KINGSTON, Nov. 6.—The weather is fair but cold. A large vote is being cast in the city and county and nearly a full vote will be polled in Ulster county.

DEMOCRATS DOING WELL IN DEERPARK

Special to the DAILY ARGUS.

PORT JERVIS, Nov 6 —A large vote is being polled. The Republicans have plenty of money, but in spite of this the Democrats are holding their own and are confident of giving a large majority for the whole ticket.

SULLIVAN COUNTY DEMOCRATS SANGUINE

Special to the DAILY ARGUS

MONTICELLO, Nov. 6 —Reports from different parts of the county indicate that a large vote is being polled. The Democrats are much encouraged at the prospects. They are confident of electing their candidates for Sheriff and Assembly by good majorities.

NEW YORK CITY'S VOTE MAY NOT ALL BE POLLED.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 —Up to noon not the slightest disturbance had been reported from any part of the city. There is, however, trouble in polling the vote, and the great number of ballots is causing much confusion and consequent delay.

The constitutional amendments complicate matters greatly. From present indications it will be difficult to get two-thirds of the vote of the city in up to the hour of closing the polls. In some districts voters lost their votes altogether because they could not manipulate their ballots in the time prescribed by law.

The Republicans are polling a heavy vote and in some districts large gains are reported. Democrats claim, however, that they are holding their own. The weather is cold.

A number of arrests have been made in various parts of the city of people who tried to vote on fraudulent registration.

In Brooklyn the Republicans claim Kings county by ten thousand.

Rebecca Wilkinson, of Brownsvalley, Ind., says: "I have been in a distressed condition for three years from nervousness, weakness of the stomach, dyspepsia and indigestion until my health was gone. I had been doctoring constantly with no relief. I bought one bottle of South American Nervine, which did me more good than any $50 worth of doctoring I ever did in my life. I would advise every weakly person to use this valuable and lovely medicine; a few bottles of it have cured me completely. I consider it the grandest medicine in the world." Chased the Chipmunk Down His Throat.

A very peculiar accident happened recently to Eben White, a farmer living about four miles northwest of St. Johns, Mich. He had been working in the woods and lay down to sleep under a tree and must have slept with his mouth open. A common mongrel pup and a small boy were his companions. While the old man slept the boy and the dog started a chipmunk and proceeded to chase it. The chipmunk made tracks for safety, and seeing White's mouth open dodged in. It was a new sensation to White to have a chipmunk trying to get down his throat alive, and he woke up in a hurry. He nearly choked to death before he pulled that chipmunk out, and then he killed the little animal and brought it into town to prove the truth of the story he tells. A doctor who examined his throat and mouth found it badly lacerated and says he believes White's story is true.—Chicago Herald.

Mormon Wealth.

The great wealth either of the Mormon church or of the individuals at its head, has been again demonstrated by the recent investment of $10,000,000 by the "first presidency" in a new corporation called the Utah company. This new company is to operate coal mines, a railroad, a bathing beach and pleasure resort at the Great Salt lake, and build, equip and operate telegraphic and telephone lines. This is purely a church scheme, in which gentiles have no part, and is like the Zion Co-operative company, to be managed to add to the wealth of the church.—Springfield Republican

PERSONAL.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. Madden Decker returned from their wedding tour, last evening.

—Mr. Wm. Youngblood, of the Emerson Wine Co., of Washingtonville, was in this city, yesterday.

—Mr. Lawrence Distler, who is a student in a medical college in New York, came home, last night, and is celebrating his birthday anniversary, to-day.

—Mrs. John Murrin, of Salamanca, editor of the Ladies' C. B. A. Journal, is in town calling upon friends, for the first time in seventeen years and, incidentally, looking after the interests of her paper.

—Messrs. J. Frank Colwell and Lewis C. Tuttle, of the government printing office, came home to vote the straight Democratic ticket. They are better Democrats than some men holding higher positions in the Federal service.

—The Rev. Henry Katz, Ph. D., who was ordained, Sunday night, as pastor of the Lutheran Church, came from Germany only four months ago, but has already made many friends among us. He is a young man of fine attainments and much promise. He received his degree of Doctor of Philosophy from the University of Berlin. He organized the church in which he is now faithfully laboring and his eloquent preaching and devotion to his work give sure promise of a successful German Church in our city.

The Electric Road's Big Rainy Day Business.

The convenience of our street railway was demonstrated, yesterday, when the rain poured down all day. There was no riding for pleasure, but all the same the cars were well filled during the day and evening. Even the two open cars were patronized, as they offered some protection from the rain.

Ordination of the German Lutheran Pastor.

Dr. Henry Katz was, Sunday, ordained as pastor of the German Lutheran Church. The services were conducted by Rev. M. A. Wittmann, Ph. D., of Liberty, and were well attended and very interesting. Rev, Dr. Gordon delivered the charge to the congregation.

THE ELECTION IN MIDDLETOWN.

A Large Vote and Little Excitement—Many Ballots Cause Delay- The Colored Vote Was Captured by the Republicans.

It has been a very quiet election although a very large vote has been polled. The cold, blustery wind, which soon made it punishment for the workers to stand at the 150 foot "dead line" had a subduing effect on the enthusiasm of those whose active interest in elections helps to make them lively.

Voting began early and by noon a good share of the toral vote had been polled The multitude of ballots made it necessary for voters to spend considerable time in the booths and voting proceeded so slowly that in some of the larger districts there were at times a dozen or more voters in line, waiting their turns in the booths.

Voters got along with the seventeen ballots without much difficulty, but some voters had to be sent back several times before they got things in such shape that the inspectors could receive their ballots. In a few instances intending voters got so rattled or so angry that they gave up the attempt to vote as a bad job and left the polling places without having cast their ballots.

There have been many evidences of bribery on the part of Republican poll workers, but these pestilent fellows have not been as open and shameless as in some recent elections. The colored vote has been cast solidly for the Republican ticket. The "men and brethren" were corralled on Fulton street, fixed out with pasters, sent to the polls and settled with as soon as they returned after voting.

VERY FEW ELECTION BETS.

But Little Money Wagered in This City on the Election.

Very few election bets have been made in Middletown, this year. In the early part of the canvass the Democratic outlook was so discouraging that Democrats were unwilling to risk their money, and later it was not possible to find Republicans who were willing to give the odds current in New York.

We hear of one Democrat who, within the past week, has wagered a considerable sum in New York city at long odds.

Most of the bets here have been at odds of five to four on Morton, but, this morning, a Democrat was so anxious to put his money on Hill that he bet $5 even.

A YOUNG LADY LOSES A LEG.

Serious Results Following a Slight Injury Made Amputation Necessary.

The left leg of Miss Blanche Merritt, of Port Jervis, daughter of Superintendent of the Poor Merritt, was amputated near the hip, yesterday. Early last June, while Miss Merritt was teaching school near Unionville, she injured her knee slightly, but thought nothing of it until July, when inflammation of the bone developed. Recently a malignant cancerous disease developed and it became necessary to amputate the limb to save her life.

BEFORE THE RECORDER.

An Ante-Election Drunk—Took the Pledge for Five Years.

There were two cases before the Recorder, this morning.

One was a plain drunk and the offender paid the usual fine of $3.

A resident of Stanton street was arrested on complaint of his wife, who charged him with breaking the furniture and chasing her with a razor. When the police went to arrest him, he had the door barricaded and it was necessary to force it open. This morning, the man was very penitent and his wife had weakened and declined to press the charge, but insisted on her husband taking the pledge for five years, which he gladly did. He was then discharged with a severe reprimand.

That Famous Pound Cake.

You will find the pound cake, which has become famous for excellence all over the city, together with many other kinds equally good, at the First Congregational Church, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Supper served each evening from 5:30 until 10.30. The exhibition of chrysanthemums will be finer than ever before. Single admission fifteen cents. Season tickets sixty cents.

A Night Lunch Wagon.

Jakey Newman's application to the Common Council for permission to run a night lunch wagon being tabled he has secured permission to place it on the Foundry lot. The wagon is almost as large as a box car, is painted white and on the sides are painted the words, "White House Cafe."

Ringing Noises.

In the ears, sometimes a roaring, buzzing sound, are caused by catarrh, that exceedingly disagreeable and very common disease. Loss of smell or hearing also result from catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is a peculiarly successful remedy for this disease, which it cures by purifying the blood.

Hood's Pills are the best after dinner pills, assist digestion, prevent constipation.

FIREMEN'S MONTHLY MEETINGS.

Business Transacted by the Several Companies, Last Night.

The regular monthly meetings of the fire companies were held, last evening, and business was transacted as follows:

EXCELSIOR HOOK AND LADDER CO.

The company decided to hold their series of socials as usual, this season, the first one to be held this month, on a date selected by the following committee of arrangements: D. D. W. Schoonmaker, M. J Edwards, A. J. Vail, Wm Fitchey, N. L Knibbs. Two propositions for membership were received.

MONHAGEN HOSE CO NO 1.

Monhagens after transacting routine business accepted an invitation of the Coaplain, Rev. Dr. Robinson, to partake of an oyster supper at the chrysanthemum exhibition at the First Congregational Church, tomorrow evening.

Messrs. Max Lea and J. S. Sutcliffe were appointed a committee to arrange for an entertainment during the winter.

A number of views of the Scranton fire parade were received from Crystal Hose Co., and these, with others previously received, will be framed and hung in the parlors.

EAGLE HOSE CO., NO 2.

Eagles accepted the resignation of Daniel Vail as an active member and elected him an honorary member.

Otis Hardenberg was elected driver of the patrol wagon, in place of Carl Johnson, resigned, subject to the approval of the Common Council.

M'QUOID ENGINE CO., NO 3.

The McQuoids received one application for membership, and the remainder of the session was devoted to routine business.

PHŒNIX ENGINE CO, NO. 4.

Phœnix Engine Co. had a busy session, part of which was the closing up of the business connected with the company's visit to Newburgh. The several committees having the trip in charge made their final reports and were discharged.

Three new applications for membership were received and referred to the proper committee.

It was voted to place cots in the engine house and have two men on duty every night.

A large photograph of Second Assistant Engineer Daniel Schmitt was received and will be added to the Company's portrait gallery.

A check for $50, the amount of the prize won by the company's hand engine at Newburgh, was received from the Treasurer of the Newburgh Firemen's Association.

It was voted to hold a special meeting, Wednesday evening, at 8 o'clock.

ONTARIO HOSE CO, NO 5.

This company did not have a quorum present and an adjournment until next Monday evening was taken.

WAALKILL ENGINE CO., NO 6.

The Waalkills did nothing except routine business and to order drafts for the payment of bills connected with the trip to Passaic.

Election Returns to be Received at the Assembly Rooms.

The election returns will be received at the Assembly Rooms, to-night All returns, local and general, will be read as soon as received. Admission twenty-five cents.

WANTED HIS DOLLAR BACK.

Didn't Propose to Be Disfranchised Because of a Petty Election Bet.

A Kingston man named B. J. Murray bet a dollar on the result of the election. A challenge was lodged against his vote with the inspectors of the district in which he lives, and when Murray heard of it he declared the bet off and demanded his money from the stakeholder. The latter refused to return it, and Murray began suit for its recovery.

Work for Letter Carriers and Postal Clerks.

Letter carriers and post office employes are not sorry that the campaign is over. For the past few days the mails have been loaded with candidates' appeals to voters and the postal employes have had their usual work more than doubled.

Accepted Port Jervis's Trolley Franchise.

The Trustees of Port Jervis at their meeting, last night, were notified by the Port Jervis and Suburban Street Railway Company, that it accepted the franchise recently granted it to build an electric road on certain streets of that village.

FIRST SNOW OF THE SEASON

A Snow Squall, Last Evening—Heavy Snow Fell in Northern New York—A Blizzard in New England

The first snow of the season in this city fell about 9 o'clock, last night It wasn't much of a snow storm, although the flakes fell thick and fast for a few minutes

Ice formed on still water about a quarter of an inch thick during the night and there was a crust of frozen earth on the ground, this morning, a reminder that winter is almost here

In the Adirondacks and all through Northern New York snow fell all day, yesterday, and by night in many localities the ground was covered to the depth of several inches.

In the Catskills snow fell nearly all day and Pine Hill and other summits and peeks were covered to the depth of an inch or two.

In the Hudson Valley enough snow fell, last night, to whiten the ground.

In Connecticut, Massachusetts and other New England States a regular blizzard prevailed, last night. Wet snow and sleet fell, there was a high wind and the thermometer sank very rapidly.

RAPID TIME ON THE ERIE.

The Fast Run of Chauncey M. Depew's Special Train.

From the Binghamton Leader.

The special Erie train which brought Chauncey M. Depew and party to this city from Corning, on Saturday afternoon, made an unusual run. The actual time between the two stations was seventy-six minutes. The distance is seventy-six miles, and as three stops were made, the actual running time was considerably faster than a mile a minute.

Across Big Flats the speed averaged eighty-four miles an hour. The famous red engine, No. 331, pulled the train.

Laborers Discharged by the Traction Company.

The Traction Company laid off, yesterday, a large number of men who had been employed in the construction of the road to Goshen, the work having progressed so that there was no need for their services. Among those discharged were nearly fifty Italians, many of whom went to New York, to-day, where they will hibernate in the Italian colony. A few of the gang will brave the rigors of the climate and spend the winter in Middletown.

DeWitt Camp's Reunion.

The regular monthly reunion of DeWitt Camp, S. of V., was held, last evening, and in spite of the rain, a large number of ladies and gentlemen were present and all spent the evening pleasantly, dancing to excellent music by Berg and Sayer, and disposing of a good supper which was served in the rooms.

A Street Railroad Magnate Killed on the Erie.

Francis J. Callanan, treasurer of the Union Traction Company, of New Jersey, and the owner of several street railroads in the State, was thrown from an Erie train at Rutherford, N. J., yesterday, and falling on the rails was run over and killed. He was passing from one car to another and was thrown from the platform by a sudden jerk of the train.

A VETERAN'S VERDICT.

The War is Over. A Well-known Soldier, Correspondent and Journalist Makes a Disclosure.

Indiana contributed her thousands of brave soldiers to the war, and no state bears a better record in that respect than it does In literature it is rapidly acquiring an enviable place. In war and literature Solomon Yewell, well known as a writer as "Sol," has won an honorable position During the late war he was a member of Co M, 3d. N. Y. Cavalry and of the 13th Indiana Infantry Volunteers. Regarding an important circumstance he writes as follows:

"Several of us old veterans here are using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, Heart Cure and Nerve and Liver Pills, all of them giving splendid satisfaction. In fact, we have never used remedies that compare with them. Of the Pills we must say they are the best combination of the qualities required in a preparation of their nature we have ever known. We have none but words of praise for them. They are the outgrowth of a new principle in medicine, and tone up the system wonderfully. We say to all, try these remedies." —Solomon Yewell, Marion, Ind., Dec 5, 1892.

These remedies are sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co, Elkhart, Ind on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles $5, express prepaid. They positively contain neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.

ENDED IN SMOKE.

How Love's Young Dream Was Broken by Letting the Wrong Man Into a Secret.

At a supper party in Bohemia the other night a funny thing happened. A beautiful maid came, attended by her latest and most devoted cavalier. Now, this beautiful maid is much addicted to that habit which is said to make us think like philosophers—the use of tobacco in its daintiest form, the cigarette. The cavalier is one of those illiberal and uncomfortable young men who hold that all the vices and most of the enjoyments of life are the monopoly of his own sex, and he is particluarly bitter in his criticism of women who smoke.

The maid had carefully concealed from him the fact that her ruby lips had ever held a cigarette, but on the occasion of this supper party her desire overcame her discretion, and she arranged with her hostess and various confidants that when the cigarettes were passed they should all urge her to "just try one" to please them. The secret had been confided to the mamma of the girl hostess, but unfortunately the name of the man who as to be thus hoodwinked had not been mentioned. The cavalier in question was seated at the right of the mamma, and that dear lady, finding him a bit difficult in conversation, thought to make it pleasant for him by telling him the whole story, which she did, with little ripples of laughter, adding, "Of course you know the maid is an inveterate smoker."

Meanwhile at the other end of the table the cigarettes were being lighted, and the beautiful maid was protesting that really she "didn't dare," "it would make her sick," etc., and finally, with a conciliatory glance toward the swain, yielding and lighting a Neston, while a light of ineffable satisfaction came into her lovely eyes. The youth became even more difficult to entertain after this, and what happened on the way home no man knoweth, but now they meet as strangers, and so, alas and alack, another of love's young dreams has ended in smoke!—New York Recorder.

ROMANCE OF TWO STATES.

Reunion of a Couple After Thirty Years' Separation.

A story which began over 30 years ago, and which dates back to the late war, has just had a strange sequel in two states—Kentucky and Texas.

When the war opened, Dr. W. H. Richardson of Kentucky left Blandville, in that state, and went to Texas, where he married.

Soon after the wedding he left his bride to join the Confederate army. In attempting some speculation he was reduced to the ranks, and becoming dissatisfied left and went to Mexico.

There, in the year 1867, he heard that his wife was dead. But he remained in Mexico until the present year. Then he resolved to return to Kentucky. He arrived in his native country, and while tracing up a land claim found it necessary to write to his wife's relatives in the Lone Star State.

This correspondence had a surprise in store for him. His wife was found to be living. She had waited 12 years and then had taken another husband.

The doctor was single, and, rejoiced to hear that his wife still lived, he wrote to ask if she had lost her love for him. She replied that she still loved him, and that if he said the word she would give the second husband his walking papers.

The doctor was willing, and true to her word the woman told husband No. 2 that he must go.

He acted on her advice, and last week Richardson went to Texas and "was reunited to the wife of his youth" after a separation covering a period of 32 years.

Queer things happen sometimes in this very queer world.—Atlanta Constitution.

How the English Court Mourned.

A supplement to the London Gazette, issued Sept. 11, contained the following:

"Lord Chamberlain's Office.—Orders for the court going into mourning this day for his late royal highness the Comte de Paris, cousin to her majesty, the queen—namely, the ladies to wear black dresses, white gloves, black or white shoes, feathers and fans, pearls, diamonds or plain gold or silver ornaments. The gentlemen to wear black court dress, with black swords and buckles, the court to change the mourning on Tuesday, the 18th inst. The ladies to wear black dresses with colored ribbons, flowers, feathers or ornaments or gray or white dresses, with black ribbons, flowers, feathers and ornaments. The gentlemen to continue the same mourning, and on Friday, the 21st, the court to go out of mourning."

The Prince and His Tailors.

I have seen the Prince of Wales several times, but I could detect very little difference between his attire and that of a well dressed New Yorker except that his garments did not fit as well. His coats are wrinkled in the back, and they do not set as well as formerly. The fact is that the prince is getting very stout, more and more like Henry VIII every day, and English tailors seem to have talent to fit only tall, lank, sinewy guardsmen. Short, stout persons cannot wear very loose, easy fitting clothes.—Vogue.

Crazed by the Races.

The Rev. F. A. Miller, pastor of the Methodist church at Farley, recently drove over to Cascade to witness the races there. He became so excited that his mind gave way, and he was taken to the residence of Richard Baker, where he is at present He has a fancy for fast horses and owns several.—Dubuque (Ia.) Dispatch.

THE USE OF ANTITOXINE.

Statistics Showing the Power of the Recently Discovered Remedy For Diphtheria.

In the first report given to the public by the board of health in this city concerning the use of the so called antitoxine for the prevention or cure of diphtheria it was stated by Dr. Biggs that the record of 250 cases showed that when the injections were made on the first day of the appearance of the disease the recoveries were 100 per cent, and that 97 per cent of those treated on the second day recovered. There are now accessible more detailed statistics concerning the use of this remedy in certain European hospitals.

For the three years immediately preceding the application of antitoxine in the Emperor and Empress Frederick's Children's hospital at Berlin 1,081 cases of diphtheria were treated, and the mortality was 40 per cent. After the middle of last March 128 cases were treated by the application of the new remedy, and the mortality fell to 13 per cent. It should be borne in mind that all these were cases in which the disease had become established before the injections were made. The physicians in charge of the hospital also inoculated 72 children who had been exposed to the disease, and only eight of these afterward had diphtheria, the disease appearing in a mild form.

While such statistics may not be conclusive, they do indicate that a very valuable agent for the treatment of this disease has been discovered. It should not be forgotten that no one claims that the injections will prevent a fatal result when they are made after the disease has become well developed. The serum of the blood of the immune animal contains a substance hostile to the diphtheritic poison, and it is believed that this substance, when introduced into the system by subcutaneous injection, will overcome and neutralize the diphtheritic poison if the injections are made at a sufficiently early date—that is to say, when the antitoxine is thus applied to persons who have been exposed to diphtheritic infection, but in whom the symptoms of the disease have not yet appeared, it is believed to be an effective safeguard, for the poison in such cases can easily be overcome. This belief is supported by the statistics thus far available. And if the inoculation is made immediately after the appearance of the disease it is almost as effective. But after the disease has become well developed and firmly seated the antitoxine may be powerful enough to retard the progress of it and to ameliorate the suffering of the patient, although it may not prevent a fatal issue. —New York Times.

THE NEW "CONSUMPTION CURE."

Some of the Rules of the Black Forest Treatment Which Is Attracting Attention.

At a new "consumption cure" in the Black Forest the principle of the treatment, says a Berlin correspondent, is to build up a system so strong that it will refuse lodgment to the insistent tubercle bacilli. To eat plentifully, to live day and night in fresh air and to rest properly are the chief tenets of the method The food is prepared by weight, and, nolens volens, it must be eaten. Damp, rainy days keep no patient indoors, and rainy, damp nights see no ventilating windows shut. Evidently the herr doctor believes damp air is better than poisoned air, and it is poisoned air that the weakened lungs cannot stand.

One feature of the treatment is to rest by lying down one hour before meals. This is insisted upon. This accords with at least one eminent practitioner in this country, who in his dietary for use in cases of incipient consumption insists upon 20 minutes' rest upon the bed before all meals except breakfast.

In the German cure the greatest attention is paid to the care of the sputum. Paper handkerchiefs are used, and the patients are taught that it is not alone infection to others that is guarded against in their absolute cleanliness, but reinfection to themselves—an obviously potent ally in securing the proper care.

Stranger Than Fiction.

In consequence of a mental malady a Georgia lady, Mrs. Byrd, conceived it her duty to live apart from her husband, Charles P. Byrd, and in order that he might apply for a divorce forged documents which would give him cause. The husband, knowing they were not true, but thinking that to humor his wife would cure her malady, he presented the papers to the legal authorities, and a divorce was granted. The ex-husband immediately began to make love to his former wife again and proposed marriage in due form, but although she appeared happy in his company and would go with him to the theater and like places she absolutely refused his proffer of marriage and expressed a wish that he would wed a girl whom she named. Now Mr. Byrd is seeking to have the decree of divorce set aside. —Atlanta Correspondent.

A Welsh Lourdes.

Holywell, in North Wales, may soon become an English Lourdes. The well of St. Winefride, which gave the place its name, has recently begun again to perform miracles. The latest cure is that of a little girl, who recovered her voice on entering the water. A blind woman got back her sight, a deaf and dumb boy his hearing and speech, and pilgrims are beginning to flock to the place.—Chicago Tribune.

A Meeting Point In Africa.

Africa is a big place. But it is not big enough to contain England, France, Germany, Portugal and Italy. And when England starts with a "Cape Town to Cairo" idea, while France sets herself to expand across the continent the other way, it is obvious that there is a point somewhere in the middle at which the two must meet. And that point has now been reached.—Pall Mall Budget.

may read. No woman, if she can read, can fail to know about Pearline. Then, if you're worn out with hard work or find your clothes going to pieces, you've only yourself to blame.

You'll have to choose your own way of washing. You can use soap and the washboard, and tire yourself out, and rub your clothes to tatters.

You can use so-called washing-powders, imitations of Pearline, and have easier work, though they're eating up the clothes. Or you can use Pearline, wash in the easiest way, and be absolutely certain that there isn't the slightest harm.

Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, be honest—send it back. 425 JAMES PYLE, New York.

"America's Greatest Men and Women."

AMERICA'S GREATEST MEN AND WOMEN.

MR. WILSON TALKS.

MY Name is Wilson; I do an insurance business on LaSalle street, in Chicago Ill., and I live in Evanston, Ill. Evanston is what was originally a scattering population on a pretty point on Lake Michigan, esteemed years ago far from the city of Chicago, but now one of the varied towns which may go within it by vote of the population.

I am married and have a wife and one child. That child is a boy (I suppose I should feel the same solicitude if it was a girl), and I have a father's natural fancies as to what must be the best thing to give that child the right kind of intelligence, and so divert his course that he may succeed in life. I have studied a great deal upon the subject. My own experience would not be of great value, because I have succeeded only to the limit of the average man and am barely established; still, I own the house and lot upon which I live, and am feeling perfectly safe in meeting the exigencies of the year. I want the boy to take a broader view than I did to be a bigger man in the world I have studied how to teach him to do that, and he has done pretty well, as far as the preliminaries go. Now, I have thought over what I should say to him and have sometimes been puzzled. I could not very well tell him what to do. I wanted to tell him what I needed but what I did not learn myself when I was of his age, and what my father did not know how to tell me, or else was not thoughtful enough to do so. I wanted to tell him how to follow the example of those who have succeeded at the present time and under the circumstances which ordinarily affect a young man struggling in this Republic established on this comparatively new world to-day. I wanted to tell him just what he had better do to get along well, and to point out to him what had been done by the people who were successful at the present time.

"Of course, the record of the people of any time past would not be of so much value, because circumstances must necessarily have been different when they were alive. I feel confident, though that if I could learn, some way and somehow, what the people who are so successful to day have done and how they did it, I could give to my boy such advice as would make his own life at least as far removed from failure as justified by the natural ability he may possess,

I looked around for some authority which I might consult in order to give him the facts most essential with this idea of mine in mind, but I could find none until I discovered that a great publishing firm in Chicago had decided to bring out a book giving the photographs of all the people who are prominent in America to day. Here was what I wanted. The book, as I have learned, is going to be published in 16 parts, 16 pages to each, with a recent photograph on each page of some active leading American man or woman of to-day, while underneath appears the story of that same person's life—the story telling what that person did, and how the ends attained were eventually accomplished. Here was what I wanted; here was what I needed in various ways; here was what I was certainly seeking in order to obtain the information with which to educate my boy and secure for him that knowledge which will give him a source of thought and make him prominent in the world.

I have the first sheets of this work. It is a graphic story of America's Greatest Men and Women, told in each instance on a single page underneath a photograph of recent date, which conveys to the eye an idea of what that person is. To me the photograph tells even more than the suggestive record beneath; and yet it is odd how in each instance the correct story corresponds with the expression upon the face which is reproduced in the portrait above. I do not know how the series will end. I know very little about this new feature of the newspaper people; I know nothing about the publishers and their expectations, but I do know this: that if the series so begun should be continued to its practical, ordinary good sense end—and I don't care whether that will include 200 or 700 of America's Greatest Men and Women, which is the title of the book—I do know this, that for the ordinary, active and alert business man—I will certainly say far more for the student or the literary man, or the politician or the statesman—for all these I will say it will be simply the most valuable and the most remarkable book produced in modern history The wonder is that some one has not thought of it before. Yet no one seems to have done so since the days of Plutarch. Plutarch knew something. That shrewd old fellow knew that all who would get out of the drift, all who would accomplish great things, wanted to know every detail of the lives of those who had better luck or more courage or a broader brain than their fellows; but I am no authority on these points. I only know that there is produced a second Plutarch's Lives, that its biographies are shrewd, graphic and curt, and written without bias and without prejudice. I only know that there was a Plutarch—God bless the old fellow—and that there is this modern work.

This is the work I am going to give to my boy. I am going to make him read it thoroughly. The work is announced as consisting of 16 Parts, with 16 pages and 16 photographs in each part, and when bound, the whole series will make a great volume of 256 pages, the like of which has never been equaled. It is the story of the personal character of the men and women who are making the nation's history at this particular time. What a work this is! Do you imagine that I would miss it for my boy, or, incidentally, for myself?

This is the story told of the stranger in one of the big railway stations. He was afraid to go into the lunchroom. The surroundings were so magnificent he felt sure the prices would be correspondingly magnificent. Finally he approached the man at the lunch counter and without seating himself on a stool he asked:

"Do you have coffee here?"

"Yes, sir."

"How much is it a cup?"

"Ten cents."

Somewhat reassured, the stranger started to mount a stool, and then he paused.

Telling the Old Story.

It was very late, and she had yawned more than once, but the young man with his hair parted in the middle and waxed down on both sides still sat there wondering what he should say next. Suddenly an inspiration seized him:

"Autumn leaves"—he began when she interrupted.

"Does she? That is encouraging."

He stared at her solemnly, and not comprehending took another tack.

"Don't you admire moonlight nights, Miss Julia?"

"Very much, but moonlight mornings are stupid, don't you think?"

He scratched his head delicately, hoping that a little light might enliven the gray matter and set him to thinking, when a distant whistle arrested his attention.

'Is that a policeman's whistle?" he asked doubtfully.

"No; I believe it's a mill whistle calling the men to their day's work," she responded, with a shiver.

"No, weally, I had no idea it was so late, don't you know, Miss Julia?"

"It isn't late: it's early. You will be able to see your way home now, I think. Papa is sitting up to let you out."

That broke up the young man and his romance, and when he makes a call now he sits facing the clock.—Detroit Free Press.

Queer Signs.

A clothing store on the West Side has adopted as its catch line, "Even snakes shed their skins." This is supposed to be a gentle invitation to purchase a new suit of clothes.

In front of a lower State street place is a sign which causes many a grin. It announces, "A bowel of soup with every drink."

OUR CITY'S WATER SUPPLY

REPORT OF ENGINEER CROES ON THE POSSIBILITY OF INCREASING IT.

The Shawangunk Kill and Beaver Brook Considered as Sources of Supply—Freshet Water from the Kill Not Desirable—Four Plans Suggested as Practicable but Pronounced Undesirable—Estimates as to Their Cost—Further Investigation Recommended.

A meeting of the Water Commissioners was held Tuesday evening, at which a full Board was present.

Mr. Henry W. Wiggins, representing the R. H. Houston estate, appeared before the Board in regard to damages, which they claim to have sustained by reason of the water taken at the pumping station. The claim was made that the estate had been deprived of water which rightfully belonged to it and that the city was liable for damages. The matter was placed in the hands of President Canfield to confer with Mr. Houston and his attorney in regard to the matter, and to ascertain what the estate demanded in the way of compensation and as to the liability of the city, and to report to the Board at its next meeting.

The matter of the increased water supply for the city was discussed by the Commissioners, and the report of Mr. Croes, the engineer, submitted.

The report was on motion accepted and ordered filed.

The Commissioners decided that in all cases the rules and regulations governing the water department should be strictly enforced

ENGINEER CROES'S REPORT.

The report of Mr. Croes in detail is as follows:

To the Board of Water Commissioners of Middletown, N Y:

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to report the results of examinations made at your request with reference to the procuring of additional water for the city of Middletown from the Shawangunk Kill.

The conditions now existing are as follows:

The present supply is drawn from Monhagen reservoir, which was constructed in 1867, has a water shed of 620 acres, an area of 86 acres, and contains 250,000,000 gallons.

In 1875 the supply was insufficient and the right of way was acquired and a wooden pipe laid for three and a half miles from the reservoir to a point on the Shawangunk Kill about 3 feet lower than Monhagen reservoir and a pump driven by water power was used for a while to supplement the supply. This pipe for some years has been in a dilapidated condition and useless.

In 1891 the supply was increased by the construction of another reservoir on the head waters of the Little Shawangunk Kill, which has a water shed of 600 acres, an area of 110 acres, and contains 350 000 000 gallons. The water from this reservoir is led into the Monhagen reservoir 8 500 feet distant from it.

An additional supply is necessary, because the water shed of the present reservoirs is not large enough to furnish in a dry year as much water as is needed for the use of the city. Even if the consumption which is increasing constantly, could be kept down by strict economy and the introduction of meters on manufacturing and domestic supplies, the drainage area from which this supply is derived is not large enough to secure such circulation in the reservoirs as is necessary to ensure a healthful condition of the water.

A storage reservoir from which a city supply is drawn ought to fill up entirely and overflow at least once a year, and thus make a complete change in the water. Where two or three dry years occur in succession, and the reservoir does not overflow, as has been the case at Middletown, the water is almost certain to get into such a condition that it is unwholesome, or at any rate unpleasant for household use and drinking. This has been abundantly proven by the experience of Middletown not only with Monhagen reservoir, but also with the additional supply derived from the Mapes reservoir since in 1891, and the necessity for introducing water from another source has, as I understand, been conceded by your Board and by the citizens at large, and several suggestions have been made with reference to the source whence such supply should be derived.

The proposition to which you have directed my attention and concerning which my opinion has been requested, is the procuring of an additional supply from the Shawangunk Kill, raising the water from some point on the stream where the elevation is sufficient to convey the water by gravity to the Monhagen Reservoir. Such point must necessarily be some distance further up stream than the old pump house. At the point where sufficient elevation can be obtained, for this purpose, the Shawangunk Kill has a water shed of fifteen square miles, which would be sufficient with proper storage facilities to ensure a daily supply of nine million gallons. The flow of the stream is, however, very variable, and during the seasons of low water the entire flow of the stream is required to operate the mills situated along its banks, and it would not be practicable to divert from the stream continuously, water for the supply of Middletown, without compensation to the mill owners below the point of diversion.

It has, therefore, been suggested that water for filling up the Monhagen Reservoir sufficiently to the seasons of greatest drought to be tided over, should be obtained from the Shawangunk during the seasons that the flow of the stream is largely in excess of the demand of the mill owners and that during the seasons of low water in the Shawangunk Kill no water should be diverted from it for Middletown. This plan would involve the laying of a pipe from the point of diversion at the Shawangunk to Monhagen Reservoir, of such size as to convey daily an amount of water largely in excess of the daily supply needed. The proportion of such excess which it would be necessary to furnish could only be determined by a long continued series of observations on the flow of the Shawangunk. No such observations have been made on this stream, but sufficient data exist with reference to the flow of similar streams in New York and New Jersey to enable a very fair judgment to be formed of the average yield of this stream for the year and the duration and extent of the periods of excessive flow.

Basing the calculations on such data, there appear to be several different periods during the year in which the flow exceeds the average daily amount available for water power. The aggregate of such periods varies in different years from 70 to 140 days. It is not safe to trust to more than 70 days in the year or about 20 per cent. of the year. A pipe to conduct that surplus flow to a reservoir, for city use, must, therefore, have a capacity to deliver five times the average daily demand.

The daily consumption of water in Middletown is estimated at 2,000,000 gallons. The number of taps at the present time is 1,593, making the estimated consumption per tap about 1,250 gallons per day. The number of taps has increased during the last six years at the rate of 112 per year. At this rate of increase of consumption, there will be required in ten years, an additional supply of 1,400,000 gallons per day.

In enlarging the present works, it will not be prudent to provide for an additional supply of less than 1,500,000 gallons per day, and it does not appear necessary to provide for a greater increase at the present time.

My estimates, therefore, have been based upon the assumption that the new works must provide for an annual draft of 550 000 000 gallons from the Shawangunk Kill, and the pipe conveying the water must have a capacity of 8,000 000 gallons per day and be so located as not to interfere with the water powers along the line of the stream below the point of diversion.

(1) The nearest point to the old pumping station on the Shawangunk Kill from which it is possible to draw a supply by gravity through a pipe following the line of the old right of way belonging to the city is at Oldroyd's Mill, 1,800 feet further up the stream. The dam at this mill is 6 feet, 8 inches higher than the flow line of the Monhagen reservoir.

By providing an independent outlet from this point, 4 inches higher than the top of the dam, or 7 feet above the Monhagen reservoir, the operation of Oldroyd's mill and of all other mills on the stream below, will not be impeded and the surplus water of freshets can be carried to the Monhagen reservoir through a 34 inch steel pipe laid along the old right of way. The estimated cost of this mode of supply is $110,500.

In estimating the cost of this and and all other methods of supply examined, I have assumed that the rights of the city to enter upon and occupy for purposes of construction and supply, the lands covered by the right of way acquired in 1875, for the old pipe line still exist, but where additional rights have to be acquired or the route of the pipe line changed, a fair compensation will have to be made to the owners of the land. For cost of pipes, I have estimated that where the diameter of the required pipe exceeds 30 inches rivetted steel pipe should be used, but that for pipes of 30 inches or less diameter, the material should be cast iron and the pipes of the nearest size ordinarily manufactured, which will suit the case.

(2) At the head of Oldroyd's pond, 1,000 feet further up the stream, a favorable site is found for a dam which would raise the water enough to give a head which would permit the use of a 30 inch pipe. The elevation assumed for this dam is 18 feet above Monhagen reservoir. It cannot be built higher without flooding an enormous area of land to a shallow depth. At 25 feet above Monhagen reservoir, it would flood about 250 acres. At the proposed height, it will flood 74 acres, backing the water up about 6 000 feet, to the Otisville road. The cost of this reservoir, with 19,600 feet of 30 inch pipe laid following the old right of way to Monhagen reservoir, would be $101,800.

The length of pipe line might be reduced to 15 800 feet by tunnelling for about 2,000 feet directly through the divide into the valley of the Little Shawangunk Kill, and running south of the Erie Railroad to a point on the old pipe line, 4,200 feet from Monhagen Reservoir. The diminished cost of pipe would be about balanced by the increased cost of right of way and tunnelling, and the entire cost would be $102,750.

(3) To obtain more head with a smaller dam and avoid the shallow flooding of a large area of land, the supply might be taken from a point a mile further up the stream, where an abandoned highway bridge crosses it. A dam six feet high at this point would flood twenty one acres, and the cost of the reservoir and 24,900 feet of thirty-inch pipe along the course of the kill and following the old right of way would be $120,700.

In this case the length of pipe might be reduced to 20 400 feet by tunneling for about 1,400 feet through the divide into the Little Shawangunk Kill Valley, and running south of the Erie Railroad to a connection with the old pipe line, as above described.

The cost by this route would be $113 850.

In all these plans we must remember that there is no storage practicable on the stream, and the inlet to the supply pipe is intended to be placed at such height above the overflow of the dam that only the surplus water not needed for operation of water powers on the stream below will be diverted to the Monhagen Reservoir. To this class of works the very serious objection is to be made that they provide only for conveying to the Monhagen Reservoir the water of freshets, which is turbid, carries a good deal of sediment, and is, moreover, not likely to be available at the very time that it is most necessary to replenish the Monhagen Reservoir.

I am clearly of the opinion that in order to insure a supply when it is most needed, and also to keep the water in the supply pipe pure and prevent its becoming foul and stagnant, where, as in this case, four miles of it is below the level of the point of discharge, storage at the head waters of the supply must be provided and the amount of stored water must be sufficient to insure a constant flow through the pipe at all seasons of the year. I have, therefore, examined the vicinity with a view to providing such a storage without interfering with the mill supplies.

(4) About 2,000 feet above the last mentioned dam site is the mouth of Beaver brook, a tributary of the Shawangunk, which has a water shed of 3 square miles, extending back to the crest of the Shawangunk mountain, and both by its topography and the nature of its soil better adapted for the collection of pure water than the upper portion of the Shawangunk Kill.

A short distance above the confluence of the two streams a favorable site exists on Beaver brook for the construction of a storage reservoir, flooding 90 acres of land of small value and containing 190 million gallons with the surface of the water 33 feet above the Monhagen reservoir.

Two dams would be required for this reservoir; one about 13 feet high and 1,000 feet long in the main valley of Beaver brook across the road to Otisville; the other a short dam in a swale which runs through from Beaver brook to Shawangunk Kill which would afford an opportunity for a waste weir and gate chamber.

The water shed tributary to this reservoir is sufficient to furnish the required supply of 1,500,000 gallons day in conjunction with the storage and without interfering with the mill powers on the main stream below. The additional head to be obtained here would enable the supply pipe to be reduced to 16 inches in diameter. This pipe might be laid either along the Shawangunk Kill and the old right of way or on the alternate line up the little Shawangunk Valley with a tunnel of 1,400 feet in length through the divide. The cost of the whole works by the old right of way would be $90 000 and by the new short line would be $95,000.

The cost of the work by this plan will, therefore, be considerably less than by any plan which proposes to utilize only flood water.

While the more direct line of pipe will cost somewhat more than the line following the old right of way, it is in my opinion to be preferred, for the reason that there will be one mile less of pipe to be cared for and the quantity which the pipe will discharge daily will be ten per cent. greater.

The advantages of both schemes of supply can be obtained by making the supply pipe from the Beaver Brook Reservoir twenty inches in diameter and adding the small dam proposed in plan No. 3 with the outlet pipe connecting with the main from Beaver Brook, thus enabling 3 250,000 gallons a day to be drawn from the Shwangunk Kill in freshets, if desired, and a constant supply of any available amount from four million gallons a day down to be drawn from Beaver Brook.

The cost of construction of the Beaver Brook Reservoir, the inlet at the highway bridge, and a twenty inch cast iron pipe leading by the short line to the Monhagen Reservoir would be $115,900.

This combined plan would, therefore, at a slight increase of cost over the cheapest plan proposed for drawing only the flood water of the Shawangunk Kill, afford a certainty of a much greater supply of water than can be procured by any of the other plans.

While either of the plans above described would be practicable, none of them are desirable, nor would it be expedient to enter upon construction of either of them until further examination of the water sheds around Middletown had demonstrated the impossibility of securing a better source of supply. Under your instructions I have not felt at liberty to investigate other sources, but from the character of the surrounding country I feel confident that there must somewhere within practicable distance of the city be a site for a storage reservoir which has ample water shed for the supply, capacity sufficient for all demands and depth enough to insure purity of the water stored therein. The average depth of the Beaver Brook reservoir would be about seven feet. A proper storage reservoir ought to average at least twenty feet in depth. As I have before said, I do not consider any plan of supply which depends solely upon freshet water as worthy of trial, and I cannot recommend so shallow a storage reservoir as any in that immediate vicinity must be, unless it can be proved that no better source of supply exists within a practicable distance of the city.

The maps and profiles accompanying the report have been prepared by Mr. R. K. Appleton from the notes of careful surveys made by Mr. N. S. Cantine, civil engineer, on lines indicated by me. All of which is respectfully submitted.
